

Data warehousing with IBM cloud db2 warehouse

Conclusions :

This paper has explored modern data warehouse which could substitute traditional data warehouse which cannot handle big data in educational system. The big data technology approach to data warehouse will help reduce difficulties associated with traditional data analysis. Moreover, this has the potential of enriching the education system with new learning ways, and making decision making by policy makers more effective and efficient.